

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN EXPLORERS' DIARIES PROJECT

The Project is a fully constituted body under WA law and is named:
The Western Australian Explorers' Diaries Project Inc.
(WAEDP)

(A full copy of the Constitution is available on the WAEDP website.)

Please note the Objectives outlined below, and thank you for considering joining the Project.

The Objectives of the Western Australian Explorers' Diaries Project Inc. are to:

- provide an unbiased and objective view of the facts available in Western Australian exploration historical material;
- preserve and disseminate information about Western Australian exploration history;
- preserve and disseminate information that led to the development of Western Australian exploration;
- produce volumes of explorers' material concerning exploration including but not limited to diaries, maps, tables, reports and journals.

WAEDP Membership Benefits

While contributing to the WAEDP, and the publishing of the journals of early Western Australian explorers, members enjoy the following benefits:

- Their name published in the WAEDP volume/s to which they contributed.
- Networking with a team of experienced and enthusiastic, like-minded people who care about Western Australia's exploration history.
- Access to information not generally available to members of the public.
- Access to a range of resources for personal research - including books and knowledge provided by other members, and the sharing of skills.
- Researching, typing, editing and publishing support for personal projects that contribute to the WAEDP.
- Assistance and advice on publishing Family Histories.
- Gaining training and skills related to research, editing and publishing.
- The opportunity to be involved in editing and publishing other Western Australia related history books. (Recent examples are 'The Scarlet Stain', 'Woodlines of the Goldfields', 'Gold Stealers' and 'Cobb and Co. in WA'.)
- Having opportunities, on a user pays basis, to field trips and expeditions related to exploration journals of Western Australia. Trips vary from local day trips, to longer expeditions to remote areas of the State.
- Discounts on the purchase of Hesperian Books.
- Gaining an awareness of newly published Western Australian related books, out-of-print publications and the availability of difficult-to-obtain publications.

In order for the Project to best use your skills, interests and expertise, you are requested to complete the following form, as 'honestly' as possible. (It will only take about 5 – 10 minutes.)

You are assured that this information is confidential – for the records of the WAEDP only - and it will not be available for any other usage, unless personally authorised by you.

Name: _____

Address: _____

Telephone No. (work): _____ Fax. No. (work) _____

Telephone No. (home): _____ Fax. No. (home) _____

E-mail Address (work) : _____

E-mail Address (home) : _____

Please identify below, the personal strengths you believe would assist the Project i.e. editing and/or typing experience/willingness; knowledge of flora/fauna/military history; interest in early settlement in WA; family history interest; regional exploration interest; specific individual; research experience, etc.:

Please identify your particular interest/s in the Project i.e. family history research; expansion of knowledge of early settlement; regional/place names history; generally, working with others of similar interests, etc.:

Please advise your expectations of an involvement in the Project?

THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST IN THE PROJECT!

